FIVE GO ON A GREAT WESTERN ADVENTURE

2020 FIND YOUR CORNWALL

02 Welcome
Is Cornwall calling you? Well we’re here ready and waiting...

08 North Coast
A wildly beautiful landscape with dramatic cliffs, sensational beaches and picturesque harbours.

22 Bodmin Moor & The Tamar Valley
Panoramas of the high ground give way to a patchwork of ancient woodland.

24 Truro & Surrounding Area
There’s no end of good reasons to pay a visit to our great little City.

34 South Coast
A blend of scenery dotted with whitewashed fishing villages, sandy coves and sub-tropical gardens.

42 West Cornwall
Slip off the edge of the map into artists’ colonies, granite outcrops and long stretches of golden sand.

50 Cornwall Events Guide
There’s always something happening in Cornwall.

52 Getting Here
By plane, train or automobile.

54 Cornwall Map
Find your own way around.
IS CORNWALL CALLING YOU?
WELL WE'RE HERE READY & WAITING

Cornwall holds such a special place in so many people’s hearts. It’s not just a holiday destination, it’s where you had mackerel fresh from the sea watching the sun go down, it’s where your little one had their first paddle and felt the soft sand on their feet, it’s where you got that wave, drunk that Cornish gin, explored that fairy tale woodland, found the perfect pasty (after trying many!) and it’s where you sat, and just listened to the roar of the sea, and finally slowed down and enjoyed the moment.

It’s family time, a couple’s romantic retreat, your four-legged friends favourite walk of the year. It’s where you can finally relax, recharge and let the sea air work its magic.

Here’s our guide for 2020 to show you the best of what Cornwall has to offer you. To inspire you to explore, perhaps a different side to Cornwall than you have before. Or if you’ve never ventured to our subtropical shores, then welcome! What a treat awaits you.

Let us guide you through the many locations and delights, so that you can find the perfect Cornwall for you. Whether that’s high-octane adrenaline and adventure, foody heaven, a restorative spa sanctuary, glorious gardens and countryside walks or exploring Cornwall’s rich heritage and culture. We’ve got it covered.

Make memories in Cornwall – the perfect, picture-postcard backdrop for your adventure, whatever it might be.

Where to Stay?
In Cornwall you are quite literally spoilt for choice. There is such an amazing array of locations and types of accommodation. You can really tailor your trip to make the accommodation as much as a star of the show as the beautiful backdrop and scenery that surrounds it.

Will it be luxury that you seek, with rossette awarded cuisine and stunning sea views? Is it the chance to cosy up in comfort and create your own Cornish home from home in a dream self-catering cottage?

A Holiday Park perhaps? Perfect for all the family to have so much fun and make those priceless memories.

Maybe a perfectly appointed B&B? Combined with often decades worth of first hand, local knowledge from the owner, who can point you in the direction of all the hidden local gems.

Or are you looking for something a tad more unique? Sustainable eco lodges, hidden huts and magical glamping in beautiful woodlands. Cornwall really does have it all. You may want to stay in so many that you have to come back more than once!

So, enjoy, be inspired & dive right in... it’s all here waiting for you.

Cornwall’s Fabulous Food
Cornwall is synonymous with fabulous food. With a real movement towards low food miles and offering product provenance, Cornwall is leading the way in providing guests delicious cuisine, sourced from as close to plate as possible.

There are so many dining experiences for you to have during your stay. Fine dining with some of the world’s most recognised Chef’s is a treat to truly remember.

Vibrant beach cafes and pop up restaurants are an experience that will stay with you.

Maybe it’s the lure of a real Cornish pasty with the sand between your toes or an elegant cream tea taking in the beautiful surroundings.

Famed for producing its own wine, ice cream, cheeses and so many more local delicacies, take your pick and indulge.
Since the age of silent movies, film and TV makers have used Cornwall’s dramatic scenery as a cinematic backdrop. From B movies of the 1950s and box office favourites, such as Ladies in Lavender starring Judi Dench and James Bond’s Die Another Day, to TV programmes like Doc Martin, Delicious and the Poldark phenomenon, millions of people have been introduced to Cornwall through the camera lens. How many unforgettable locations will you spot on your travels?

Inspiring
The ‘special’ light that bathes Cornwall has illuminated the canvases of painters for centuries and these days we have the largest concentration of working artists anywhere outside London. So, you’ll be able to take home a creative piece of Cornwall yourself, as all over the county you’ll find galleries and shops that showcase not only paintings, but contemporary pottery, sculpture, fashion and jewellery, all reflecting Cornwall’s landscape and vibrant culture.

Health and Well Being
Cornwall’s fresh air, wide open spaces and sense of freedom will soon start to make you feel relaxed and begin to unwind. Whether you enjoy a coastal walk, take part in a yoga class on the beach, take a moorland trek or rediscover the joys of swimming in the sea, you’ll soon get Cornwall’s feel-good factor.

Screen Shot
Time Travel
In 2006 parts of Cornwall’s old mining areas were granted World Heritage status, recognising just how important the region’s tin and copper production was to the Industrial Revolution. As you walk in the footsteps of our mining ancestors and visit old engine houses and explore tunnels underground, Cornwall’s recent past comes alive. But look closer and something more ancient appears. Dotted all over the landscape you’ll find prehistoric stone circles, Iron Age villages, medieval holy wells and imposing castles that tell tales of heroic kings and mystical legends.

Ditch the Car
Getting out and about by train, bus and boat means you’ll reduce that carbon footprint, save on parking charges and, at some attractions, get cheaper admission fees. Say hello to welcoming people you meet on the way and explore intriguing towns and villages that you would probably just miss stuck behind the wheel of your car. It may take a bit longer, you may have to wait for the next connection, but just look around you… this is Cornwall and there is always something new to discover.

Join in
Cornwall is full of festivals. It’s as if we can’t get enough of creating, cooking, eating, playing, sailing, gardening, dancing and having a lot of fun. Well, who can blame us? With fantastic local food, our love of music, a coastline naturally designed for water sports and age-old traditions that still keep a few magical secrets, Cornwall has a year long calendar of brilliantly inspiring events.

All you have to do is join in… have fun!!

Where the Wave Ends
If you visited a different beach every day in Cornwall, it would take you over ten months. Ten months and a few days to be exact, there are so many. White sands, golden dunes, rocky coves and wide-open bays – the choice is yours. So if you’re a gung-ho surfer, a keen sandcastle builder or you just want to doze off in the sun, Cornwall’s beaches are here to impress, excite and relax.
Art & Culture
Cornwall is special in its location, being the most westerly point in the country and boasting a sense of calm and remoteness, despite its now easy access to reach. Cornwall is a place where your time is your own. Regain your sense of adventure and interest. Start new hobbies or expand your skills. Take in your surroundings and immerse yourself in all that Cornwall has to offer, with its own unique sense of spirit and self.
Once you are here it has a vibe of its own. A sense that time really is your own, a change of light and scenery to inspire you.
It’s not hard to see why Cornwall boasts many artists in residence, with many studios that you can visit and enjoy during your stay. Take in Tate St Ives, or the Barbara Hepworth museum and many more galleries to delight and inspire.
Enjoy outdoor theatre, which is such a unique and memorable experience. The Minnack theatre carved into the rock on a cliff top is truly a site to behold. Watch amazing performances, which are sometimes overshadowed by a touring pod of dolphins wanting to get in on the action. Or Miracle Theatre, setting up in inspiring locations and touring the glorious Cornish countryside.

Stunning Subtropical Gardens
Cornwall is famed for its stunning subtropical gardens. With it being one of the first places in the country for spring to be sprung, it’s always amazing to see the plants and flowers that are abundant and in bloom throughout our gorgeous county.
With so many to choose from, will it be the National Trust’s Trelissick, with it’s sweeping views of rolling countryside and glistening water beyond. Or will the Lost Gardens of Heligan be your top spot with its magical gardens, woodland walks and farmland to enjoy.
Whatever the weather, Cornwall’s vibrantly blooming gardens are perfect to explore.

Wild Cornwall
Blow the cobwebs away and wrap up for some wildlife watching Cornwall style. We are lucky in Cornwall to have so much wildlife on our doorstep to explore. At certain times of year it wouldn’t be out of the ordinary to be on a coastal walk and see seals, dolphins or even basking sharks.
With such a focus on the outdoors, it’s a wonderful place to take in all that fresh air and stroll through over 30 amazing Cornish gardens, walk the 400 miles of stunning coast path or enjoy all the adrenaline activities on offer at our outdoor adventure centres.
So get out and about and enjoy!
NORTH COAST

For over seventy miles a string of mile-wide golden sand bays sweep along a wildly beautiful coastline, pummeled by giant rollers off the Atlantic. Punctuated by gorgeous fishing villages, the area is a renowned hub for thrill seekers who love the water. With family friendly resorts along with boutique hotels and celebrity-endorsed eateries, North Cornwall combines the traditional with new trends, in stunning natural scenery.

DISCOVER MORE

Make your way up to the impressive ruined medieval castle at Tintagel, via an all new bridge, legendary home to heroic King Arthur. Create your own tales of knights and fair maidens as you explore Merlin’s cave on the beach below.

Sign up to a surf school at Mawgan Porth, a wide open bay north of Newquay, and learn how to ride the waves expertly. Take on the rollers as they unleash their power to glide you back to shore. Superb surfing for beginners.

Pick up the freshest produce from the people who grow it. Pop into one of the many farm shops in the area and stock up with locally grown fruit and veg, delicious homemade cakes, freshly laid eggs and free range meats.

For a touch of romance, cosy up with those you love in the café at glorious Chapel Porth Beach near St Agnes. Order a steaming cup of hot chocolate and watch the wind whip up a swell out to sea.

Call in at Newquay and take an exhilarating sea safari aboard a powerboat from the harbour. A great way to see the stunning coastline while you watch out for dolphins, basking sharks and seals.

Go rockpooling at Crooklets Beach, Bude and discover its fascinating marine life in the style of David Attenborough. See if you can spot bright red and green anemones, tiny crabs, sea slugs and darting creatures like Cornish suckers and pipefish.

Play safe. Look but don’t touch the local wildlife and always check the tide times.

Get the family together and cycle the 12 miles from Wadebridge to Padstow and back on the Camel Trail. It’s one of the UK’s most popular multi-use trails and takes an easy-going route along the banks of the river estuary that teems with wild birds.

For over 290 miles the South West Coast Path snakes around Cornwall revealing stunning landscapes at every turn. From a challenging trek over the high cliffs around Bude to an easy stroll between Marazion and Penzance, there’s a part of the path to suit everyone.

Experience the diversity of the Cornish landscape with the contrast between the ruggedness of Bodmin Moor and the lush Tamar Valley. In just a matter of miles the big panoramas of the high ground give way to a patchwork of ancient woodlands and meandering creeks.

Bodmin Moor & The Tamar Valley

DON'T MISS

Pull on your hiking boots and make the most of those big skies and vast open spaces. Explore rugged viewpoints or seek out ancient sites.

Pay a visit to the windswept Jamaica Inn at Bolventor, made famous by author Daphne Du Maurier, and hear mysterious tales of smugglers and ghosts. See a show at Strets Theatre near Liskeard. The atmospheric tented amphitheatre has a summer-long program of famous comedians, national tours, musicals and plays.

Climb to the top of Brown Willy, Cornwall’s highest peak at 420m (1375 ft) and enjoy the spectacular views over the moor and the coastline beyond.

Visit the magnificent formal gardens and soak up the Victorian grandeur of Lanhydrock House near Bodmin, Cornwall’s own version of Downton Abbey.

Time travel around the moor discovering a treasure of prehistoric tombs, Bronze Age stone circles and holy wells. The 3,000-year-old Hurlers Circle at Minions is a must.

Enjoy Calstock’s gorgeous riverside setting along with its extensive program of festivals, concerts and art exhibitions. Enjoy some pretty walks to Cotehele House, an untouched Tudor mansion with extensive gardens.

Make your way up to Kit Hill near Callington. Enjoy a picnic and take in the breathtaking view of the River Tamar flowing down to the coast past a patchwork of green fields.

Kilmar Tor, Bodmin Moor

Carn glaze Caverns

Self-guided tour of heritage slate mine, with beautiful underground lake, gardens and woodland walk in 4.5 acres of ancient woodland. Open Monday to Saturday 10am to 5pm (8pm August). From the cafe-cultured city centre to its award-winning parks and gardens, there’s no end of good reasons to visit our Great Little City. Truro has fabulous shopping, top entertainment and a vibrant food and drink scene, framed by historic architecture and welcoming public spaces.

HIGHLIGHTS
Visit the magnificent neo-Gothic style cathedral with its tall spires that soar above the city’s cobbled streets and handsome Georgian town houses. The Victorian stained glass windows are considered the finest examples in the UK.

Explore the city streets and alleyways and discover high street brands and fresh independent outlets, plus the lucky dip of indoor and outdoor markets. From one-off fashion boutiques and jewellers to alternative homeware and vintage shops, there’s bound to be something to delight.

Have a bite to eat at one of Truro’s independent eateries that work their culinary magic with locally-sourced produce. Take your pick from a feast of Cornish goodies fresh from local suppliers at Truro’s Farmers’ Market, held every Wednesday and Saturday on Lemon Quay.

Truro takes special pride in its award-winning parks, gardens and floral displays, so take some time out to enjoy the city’s more tranquil spaces. The formal gardens and Sunday bandstand entertainment at Victoria Gardens are a special treat.

NATURE WATCH
Discover the secrets of the Cornish countryside with The Cornwall Wildlife Trust who host hundreds of activities all year round. Many of the activities are free of charge and range from rock pool rambles and guided walks to seal spotting and bat patrols.

Have a peek at the lovely blooms at Bosvigo Gardens, just a 15 minute walk from the city centre. Surrounded by a fine Georgian mansion, rare and unusual plants impress with vibrant colours while the courtyard and woodland walk give subtle shade.

Take a boat trip from Truro to Falmouth where wilder landscapes await on the stunning Fal River. Break your voyage at Trelissick House to admire the gardens, or stop off at the lovely estuary village of Malpas for a bite to eat. Alternatively, journey over viaducts and through tunnels on the scenic Maritime Branch Line that’ll take you straight to the heart of Falmouth in just 25 minutes.

Be entertained by the latest movies at the multi-screen Art Deco Plaza Cinema, while a trip to the ShelterBox Disaster Relief Centre gets you an interactive insight into the world-famous charity’s vital humanitarian work around the globe.
The Alverton

The Alverton is a grade II listed hotel in the heart of Truro. Surrounded by rolling gardens and steeped in history, our fine-dining hotel is perfectly located for Cornish adventures. Find your perfect coastal Hideaway

Visitcornwall.com  YOUR ESSENTIAL GUIDE
SOUTH COAST

Here meandering rivers head for the ocean fringed by beautiful gardens that bloom in Cornwall’s gentle climate. In coastal towns palm trees line the roads and even tea plantations thrive. Up and down the coast fresh seafood is landed at busy fishing ports and hidden among tranquil countryside you’ll discover secluded coves that are perfect for leisurely walks, family picnics and messing about on the water.

THE TO DO LIST

Explore the Eden Project near St Austell and discover rare and colourful plants and trees from all over the world in two amazing giant greenhouses that have justifiably become world famous.

Paddle a canoe on an escorted river safari around the tranquil beauty of the Fowey estuary. Perfect for observing the abundant river wildlife and a really adventurous day out for the family.

Seek out the Rame Peninsula where you’ll find a labyrinth of high-hedged lanes that pass medieval churches, fields full of flowers and long golden beaches with rolling breakers that have been the secret haunt of surfers for years.

Wander around the 800 acres of Mount Edgcumbe Country Park, a free public space at the mouth of the Tamar estuary. It’s home to the National Collection of Camellias which are stunning in spring.

Create your own seafaring stories by riding the ferries that criss-cross the magnificent Fal Estuary, one of the biggest harbours in the world. Visit the picturesque villages that line the water’s edge.

Find yourself at the Lost Gardens of Heligan near Mevagissey, a restored horticultural landscape from a hundred years ago, complete with fascinating kitchen gardens and an exotic jungle that the kids will love. Overlooked by a medieval castle, the ancient town of Lostwithiel has made a name for itself as a hub for antique collectors and lovers of all things vintage. Browse the shops and haggle for a bargain then stop off at one of the town’s many cafés for afternoon tea.

Hidden Gem

Falmouth’s maritime legacy continues to permeate the harbour town, and the creative buzz from its arts-based university only adds to the atmosphere. Soak it up at bars, restaurants, beaches and attractions such as the family-friendly National Maritime Museum Cornwall. Then escape to the Helford river, whose inland creeks are famed for their impossible beauty and abundant wildlife.

Visit the bustling working port of Looe with its unique banjo-shaped pier. Book a fishing trip from the harbour and head out to sea to catch fresh mackerel for supper.

WEST CORNWALL

Along the rugged coastline the sea turns turquoise in the sun and the natural light is beautifully bright. For decades West Cornwall has been home to a melting pot of artists captivated by a landscape scattered with the remnants of a long heritage, including one of Europe’s greatest concentrations of prehistoric monuments. As you slip off the edge of the map into rocky gorges where tiny fishing villages face a wild ocean, Cornwall reveals its most individual and captivating side.

EXPERIENCE THE WEST

Walk to Loe pool, Cornwall’s largest natural freshwater lake and home to rare fauna and flora. Set off from Helston and spend a few hours strolling through the wooded Cober Valley and the historic Penrose Estate. There’s a tearoom on the way for a welcome stop-off. Discover works by some of the 20th century’s greatest artists at Tate St Ives and see for yourself the area’s landscape portrayed in paintings and sculpture.

To truely unwind and relax, travel twenty eight miles west of Cornwall to the Isles of Scilly. It’s the kind of place you head for to escape everything. Uncrowded and outstandingly beautiful, this archipelago is a world apart. Lie on the pristine white sand at Kynance Cove. Here the sea seems a touch bluer, the light a little brighter and the beach is backed by extraordinary red, black and green serpentine rocks.

Even if the weather’s a little chilly, take the plunge at Penzance’s celebrated Art Deco lido from spring 2020. Now open all year round, thanks to a geothermal well that heats the seawater to a balmy 35C.

To experience the West Cornwall, visit West Cornwall’s celebrated Art Deco lido from spring 2020. Now open all year round, thanks to a geothermal well that heats the seawater to a balmy 35C.

Experience Geevor Tin Mine at Pendeen, one of the last tin mines in Cornwall to close. Now revitalized as a visitor attraction, Geevor gives you a genuine insight into the life and times of a Cornish miner.

To experience the West Cornwall, visit West Cornwall’s celebrated Art Deco lido from spring 2020. Now open all year round, thanks to a geothermal well that heats the seawater to a balmy 35C.

GETTING HERE

BY ROAD
The M4, M5 and M6 motorways have made travel to Cornwall simple and straightforward, while within Cornwall itself, the two major holiday routes, the A30 and A38 continue to improve, with duall carriageways as far as Carland Cross, Mitchell, and most of the way to Penzance. Follow the M5 to Exeter, after which you will take either the A30 or A38 into Cornwall, depending on your final destination. Alternatively, if you enter Cornwall via North Devon then there is the Atlantic Highway, the A39, which you can join at junction 27 on the M5.

BY RAIL
Cornwall has main line stations at Saltash, St Germans, Menheniot, Liskeard, Bodmin Parkway, Lostwithiel, Par, St Austell, Truro, Redruth, Camborne, Hayle, St Erth and Penzance. There are also branch lines to Gunnislake, Looe, Newquay, Falmouth, St Ives and ‘bus branch lines’ to Eden Project from St Austell Station and Helston from Redruth Station.

For National Rail Enquiries - train times and information 08457 48 49 49.

Quality Inspected
All accommodation listed in this guide is quality inspected to common quality standards. Most are inspected by Visit England, AA or Quality in Tourism. All schemes are based on one to five star ratings. The Local Cornwall Inspection Scheme is inspected on an annual basis.

1* Simple comfortable
2* Well-presented and well-run
3* Good level of quality and comfort
4* Excellent standard throughout
5* Exceptional with a degree of luxury

Other Approved Accommodation is inspected by local organisations including Visit Cornwall, using the same common standards, and working in harmony with Visit England and the AA.

Camper & Caravan Parks
Camper and caravan parks are rated by the AA with pennants similarly to other accommodation dependent on the range and quality of facilities provided. The AA Pennant rating is only based on facilities and services at campsite and caravans parks, and does not cover static caravans or chalets.
